

How can I ensure my home is disinfected?

Just because you're working from home doesn't mean you're automatically safe from infection – isolation merely lowers the potential of it rapidly spreading. This means you should ensure your house and remote working space is sufficiently disinfected.

Here are some tips for keeping your space clean:

Use cleaning products that say “disinfectant” on the label. Some even advertise their effectiveness against coronaviruses specifically.

Clean commonly touched surfaces and objects, like door handles, toilet flushers, countertops, desks, pens, computers and phones.

Be sure to read cleaning product labels and follow proper instructions, like waiting a certain amount of time before wiping the cleaner off.

Sanitize dishes with specific dishwasher cycles or with food-grade products. After sanitizing, be sure to rinse with water any surfaces and objects that will come into contact with food.

These cleaning tips aren't a replacement for other prevention methods. Be sure to continue washing your hands thoroughly and to avoid large groups of people.
